JEAn is here for your curriculum needs

Are you a new teacher and/or adviser or just new to journalism? Are you feeling a little overwhelmed by all of the curriculum options available on the JEA website and just don't know where to start? Are you trying to figure out a cohesive overall plan for your classes that adheres to a variety of national and/or state standards? We can help. JEA is excited to launch one-on-one virtual curriculum consultation sessions for teachers and advisers just like you.

A member from our team of veteran curriculum experts will work with you during a series of virtual meetings to answer questions, provide feedback and create individualized plans for you to implement in your classroom. They’ll strive to incorporate specific lessons from the JEA curriculum site as well as to help you cater those lessons to your specific needs.

Take advantage of this great opportunity and sign up today. Check out the information below to get started.

How it works

Matching with a curriculum expert requires just two small steps

Step 1: Sign up

- JEA member advisers can sign up online for a virtual consultation using this Google Form.
- Once payment has been received, the JEA Curriculum Specialist will connect each adviser with the most relevant curriculum expert available.
- Consultations will consist of three meetings over the course of several weeks between the adviser and their curriculum expert.
- Each meeting should last between 30 minutes and one hour. Advisers and their experts can work together to find the best methods and times for communication. That could be phone, Zoom, etc. and before or after school, on the weekend … whatever works.

Step 2: Enjoy 3 sessions

SESSION 1: A curriculum expert will meet with you one-on-one to discuss the broader picture of your needs. By the end of this initial meeting, the expert will provide a few rough suggestions as well as some general guidance on how you can proceed.

SESSION 2: You’ll reconvene with your curriculum expert to discuss your plan in more detail. At this meeting, the expert will share documentation with a more specific list of ideas. Most notably, the expert can include links to relevant lessons on the JEA curriculum website. The expert may also provide additional suggestions regarding timing/pacing and additional helpful materials/links.

SESSION 3: By this point, you’ll have had an opportunity to look through the materials the expert shared in Session 2. This final meeting will serve as a chance for you to ask questions and get clarification regarding those suggestions and for the expert to tweak any specific areas geared toward your needs.

Cost?

Curriculum consultations are just $150 for all three sessions.

Payment link is on the Google Form.